

Invest in Your Future with the GreenWays Energy Fund.

TMLP focuses on buying and investing in a diverse energy portfolio, not only to keep costs down, but also to reduce our carbon footprint. Currently 21% of TMLP's energy supply purchases are classified as renewable energy.

TMLP is doing its part to ensure that purchasing and investing in green power from renewable resources remain a top priority. Now we're asking our customers to help us by contributing to the GreenWays Energy Fund.

Here's how it works: TMLP customers can voluntarily make a monthly contribution of $3, $5, $10 or $15 into the fund that has been set aside specifically for purchasing and investing in renewable energy resources like wind, solar, biomass, and landfill gas. This money will only be used to invest in renewable energy resources.

The amount the customer allocates to the fund will be added each month to the TMLP bill. Customers can discontinue participation in the program with 30-days notice.

TMLP is passionate about renewable energy . . . we want you to be, too!

In addition to the GreenWays Energy Fund, TMLP is also promoting the use of renewable energy by giving back to those who generate their own electricity.

Since solar panels, windmills and biomass can still generate electricity even when the customer isn't using electricity, TMLP's Net Metering Program will help ensure that customers are only charged for the resources they consume. If the customer produces more electricity than they consume, the customer will be compensated for that power supply.

It's almost like spinning the electric meter backwards!
